Independent Auditor's Report

To the Stockholder
Alanar Incorporated

We have audited the balance sheet of Alanar Incorporated as of December 31, 2002-2001, and the related statements of income, changes in stockholder's equity, and cash flows for the two years then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Alanar Incorporated as of December 31, 2002 and 2001, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the two years then ended in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles in the United States of America.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
DECEMBER 31, 2002

Note 1 - Description of business and summary of significant accounting policies:

Alanar Incorporated (the company) located in Sullivan, Indiana was incorporated in Indiana on September 1, 1988 for the purpose of qualifying as a broker-dealer. The company was licensed as a broker-dealer and began operations on September 2, 1988. The company is licensed in several states as a broker dealer. The company primarily assists churches in preparing bond issues for new construction.

The following is a summary of the more important accounting principles and policies followed by the company.

Revenue recognition

Revenue related to commissions earned resulting from the sale of securities is recognized generally at the "date of closing." Revenue from underwriting is recognized when cash is received.

Income taxes

Current and deferred income taxes are provided in amounts sufficient to give effect to timing differences between financial and tax reporting which results from the differences in tax reporting and accrual basis for financial reporting.

Property and equipment

Depreciation and amortization of equipment is computed using the straight-line method with estimated useful lives ranging from five to seven years. The company renovated its leased property and is depreciating these improvements on a straight-line basis over a range of ten to thirty-nine years.

Expenditures for maintenance and repairs are charged to expense as incurred. Additions and betterments are capitalized. The cost of properties sold or otherwise disposed of, and the accumulated depreciation thereon, is eliminated from the property and reserve accounts, and gains and losses are reflected in income.

Cash equivalents

For purposes of the statement of cash flows, the company considers all highly liquid debt instruments purchased with an initial maturity of three months or less to be cash equivalents.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON INTERNAL ACCOUNTING
CONTROL REQUIRED BY SEC RULE 17a-5

To the Stockholder
Alanar Incorporated

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements of Alanar, Incorporated for the year ended December 31, 2002, we considered its internal control structure, including procedures for safeguarding securities, in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements and not to provide assurance on the internal control structure.

Also, as required by rule 17a-5(g) (1) of the Securities and Exchange Commission, we have made a study of the practices and procedures (including tests of compliance with such practices and procedures) followed by Alanar Incorporated that we considered relevant to the objectives stated in rule 17a-5(g) (1) in making the periodic computations of aggregate indebtedness (or aggregate debits) and net capital under rule 17a-3(a) (11) and the reserve required by rule 15c-3(e); (2) in making the quarterly securities examinations, counts, verifications and comparisons, and the recordation of differences required by rule 17a-13; (3) in complying with the requirement for prompt payment for securities under section 8 of Regulation T of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System; and (4) in obtaining and maintaining physical possession or control of all fully paid and excess margin securities of customers as required by rule 15c-3.

The management of the company is responsible for establishing and maintaining an internal control structure and the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of internal control structure policies and procedures, and of the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph, and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the Commission's above mentioned objectives. Two of the objectives of an internal control structure and the practices and procedures are to provide management with reasonable, but not absolute, assurance that assets for which the company has responsibility are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles. Rule 17a-5(g) lists additional objectives of the practices and procedures listed in the preceding paragraph.

To the Stockholder
Page Two

Because of inherent limitations in any internal control structure or the practices and procedures referred to above, errors or irregularities may occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of them to future periods is subject to the risk that they may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the effectiveness of their design and operation may deteriorate.

Our consideration of the internal control structure would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control structure that might be material weaknesses under standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of the specific internal control structure elements does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that errors or irregularities in amounts that would be material in relation to the financial statement being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. However, we noted no matters involving the internal control structure, including procedures for safeguarding securities, that we consider to be material weaknesses as defined above.

We understand that practices and procedures that accomplish the objectives referred to in the second paragraph of this report are considered by the Commission to be adequate for its purposes in accordance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and related regulations, and that practices and procedures that do not accomplish such objectives in all material respects indicate a material inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and on our study, we believe that the company's practices and procedures were adequate at December 31, 2002 to meet the Commission's objectives.
